One of the events I attended last Thursday evening as part of the American Veterans Conference activities was a reception and panel discussion involving “wounded warriors,” past and present. The event was sponsored by the MOPH Service Foundation.

It was an inspiring event, listening to these brave warriors tell about their experiences – the circumstances surrounding their being wounded, their rehab, and their lives since.

You can read about the “Wounded Warrior Experience” event on the attached website - <http://www.foxnews.com/on-air/special-report/blog/2011/11/04/wounded-warrior-experience>

Please take the time to read it and pass it on to others.
